Editing

undo

delete*

delete that*

delete last [1-100] words/sentences

delete [word or phrase]*

insert space

backspace

backspace [1-100]

*Tips

- Saying "delete" by itself removes the last word or punctuation before the cursor.
- Saying "delete that" removes the last spoken utterance.
- An example of using [phrase] would be dictating "what a super nice day" and then saying "delete super." You would then be left with the phrase "what a nice day."

Formatting

---

bold

italics

underline

indent

*Tips

- You can bold, italicize, underline, or strikethrough a word or phrase. An example would be dictating "review by tomorrow at 5PM", then saying "bold tomorrow" which would leave you with "review by tomorrow at 5PM."
- Try phrases like "bold last word" or "underline last sentence."
